Headline:
Damp and murky but becoming midler. Some sunny spells Monday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Rain clearing east early evening, along with weakening winds. Remaining damp and murky though, with extensive cloud and outbreaks of drizzle over the western hills but drier in the east. Milder for most, although remaining cold near surviving snow. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Monday:
Brightening up through the morning, with patchy low cloud and developing sunny spells. Becoming mostly cloudy during the afternoon though, with patchy rain over the western hills. Noticeably milder. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Breezy and largely sunny although spells of rain are expected early and late on Wednesday. More changeable Thursday, with rain and hill snow clearing to sunshine and showers. Rather mild.
